

EDUCATING SCREENAGERS: PEDAGOGICAL IMPLICATIONS FOR TODAY'S LEARNERS WITH KATIE ILES FROM HELLO CLARITY

From sensory engagers to digital linguists and social networkers, this interactive workshop will deliver insights from the latest research on the characteristics defining Generation Z.

The workshop will unpack implications for the education sector, including:

- ... The Gen Z worldview and how it impacts learning environments
- ... Critical issues affecting learning, growth and development

- ... How Gen Z communicate
- ... Gen Z expectations of study, work and leadership and what this means for educators
- ... Gen Z distinctive: strengths, challenges and opportunities for personal growth

Attendance will contribute 6 hours of PD addressing the following standards from the Australian Professional Standards for Teachers: 1.2, 2.6, 3.3, 3.5, 4.1, 4.5 & 6.2

About Katie Iles

Katie Iles is a consultant and keynote speaker for Hello Clarity, passionately traversing the cross-section between leadership, emerging generations, effective communication and cultural engagement. Hello Clarity is a research-based strategy and communications company Directed by Australia's foremost researcher in generational engagement and author of 'Hello Gen Z', Claire Madden. The Hello Clarity team are regularly featured on Sky News, Today, Sunrise and The Morning Show. Claire's team is highly regarded for their dynamic and engaging research-based presentations that equip leaders, managers and educators to effectively build teams, engage generations and respond to change.

Valued at $250

Cost

$49 / subsidised price
$25 / Duke of Ed and or
Advanced school price

When/Where

Benalla - May 23
Melbourne - July 30
Traralgon - July 31
Warrnambool - August 27
Horsham - August 28

Book today at: www.dukeofedvic.eventbrite.com.au